

Program Name: University of Louisville Med-Peds

Size of intern class: 5

Application Process: we accept all applications via ERAS

Number and types of letters of recommendations: We ask for 3-4 letters from people who know you well. A chair letter may be used as one of these, but is not required.

Application review/invite timeline: Our program reviews applications on a rolling basis from the date that ERAS opens to programs. We begin to extend interviews that same week but may continue to extend some interviews up to our last interview date as space allows. We plan on all interviews taking place on Mondays or Wednesdays from November to Mid-January. All interviews will be virtual for the 2020-2021 season, with opportunities to interact with residents, program leadership, and faculty.

Approach to Step 1: We require a step 1 score prior to extending an interview.

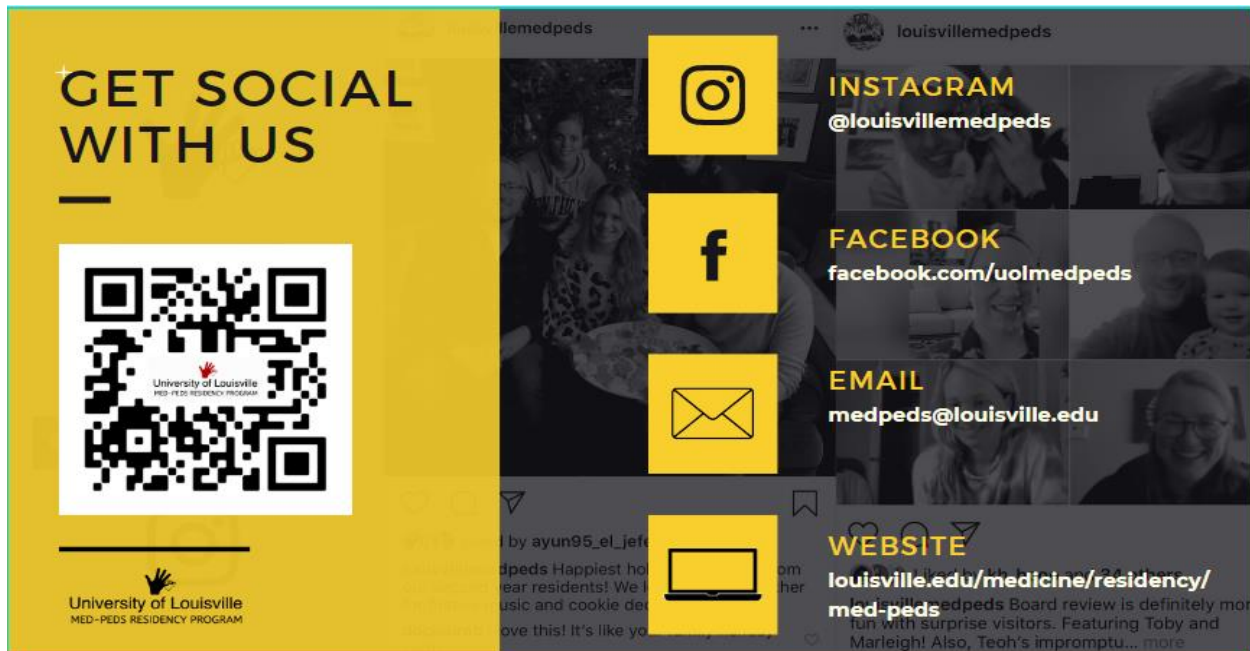

Approach to Step 2: We will not require to be extended an interview. We would like to have documented step 2 completion prior to the Rank Order List deadline.

Post-Interview Communication Policy: We do not require post-interview communication, but are available for questions if these come up after your interview day. We understand that with the nature of moving to a virtual interview day, there may be more questions that come up after and we welcome any such questions if this will better inform your decision about our program. Resident contacts will also be provided as part of your interview process to facilitate you getting to know us better.
